

Dear DBLN Supporters,

We hope you have been enjoying your summer days. We thank you for your support for DBLN and want to share the latest updates. We will celebrate one year of our historic petition which can be found in our website, <https://deafblindleadershipnow.org/petition.html>. July 22nd is less than a month away and is the day to remember.

THE NEW LOOK

Check out our website's new look. It has been revised and now is user friendly for everyone, including the low vision population. Check out our new logo! Isn't it nifty? Theresa Wells, our web mistress, continues to do an extraordinary job and we appreciate her time and hard work. Enjoy:

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS?

Helen Keller Services has been circulating posters this month. The poster has an illustration of a lighthouse and a path down the slope. Photos of individuals are lined along the path. The title says, "Cultivating leadership. Together, We Grow." Then the content says the following:

"Leadership within the DeafBlind community flourishes through cultivation, education, and courage. From youth discovering possibilities to adults sharing wisdom, each journey illuminates the path for others, offering guidance and shared experiences that turn challenges into opportunities across all life stages."

What do you think? Did we just flourish? Cultivating leadership happening just now? What are we before this illumination?

Again, DeafBlind Leadership has been around for years!

CONGRESSIONAL DEAFBLIND CAUCUS

The launch of CDBC has been delayed until July. Congress is busy dealing with our nation's issues. If you have not done so, please reach out to your DeafBlind organization, association, or agency and ask them to join the CDBC and have your viewpoints be touched. For info how to join, go to last month's blog in our website:
